

Mackie, H. (2019) Interactive Session: Audience experiences of niche demonstration projects to influence system change. 5th International Conference on Transport and Health, Melbourne, Australia, 4-8 November

Following the presentations from Te Ara Mua – Future Streets, an exercise will be conducted with the audience to explore experiences of niche or demonstration projects to trigger system change. Researchers, practitioners, stakeholders and community members attempting to work together to show what change might look like, will be explored. The various experiences of the audience, together with the lessons from Te Ara Mua – Future Streets will be used to arrive at success factors for effectively delivering projects that might spark change.
